Comedy night in Glenside features some of the best up and coming comics from New York City.

Veteran performer Patty Rosborough is a top New York City comic whose breathless, frenetic, and shamelessly uninhibited performances can be seen at every major club in New York. She most recently appeared in England on BBC's comedy show, "The World Stands Up" and at the Montreal "Just for Laughs" Comedy Festival. She has stacked up a list of television credits ranging from Comedy Central, A&E, Showtime and VH1 as well as co-hosting "Short Attention Span Theater" with Jon Stewart. Patty's movie credits include appearing in "Funny (The Movie)" and Adrian Lyne's film "Jacob's Ladder". Patty was the winner of the BUD LIGHT LADIES OF LAUGHTER Comedy Competition and New York City's Charlie Award. Patty has also hosted her own morning radio talk show in New York called "The Coop and Patty Show" and warmed up audiences for ABC's "The View". Once you witness this powerhouse of comedy you'll see why she keeps so busy.

Andy Pitz is a regular performer at all of New York City's best comedy clubs, and he also tours the country when his wife will allow it. You may have seen Andy performing his unique brand of stand-up on "The Late Show with David Letterman" or "The Late Late Show with Craig Ferguson".

With over 15 years of experience under his belt, Andy's material is clean, original and yet easy to relate to. He's also one of the few comics today who does not resort to negativity to keep an audience entertained.
